MACEO'S SUCCESSOR

Falls With Three Wounds and Is Captured.

SAD FATE OF GENERAL RIVERA.

Battle at Perico Pozo on Sun lay in Which the Insurgents Fare Badly—Lieutenant Terry, a Naturalized American, Dies of Wounds Received at the Same Spot on the 15th—Correspondent Crosby Killed.

HAVANA, March 30.—General Hernandez Velasco left San Cristobal under secret orders at noon last Saturday with the Castillo Reina battalion and two field pieces, and pitched his camp amid the Brujo hills. The insurgents attacked the regulars from the very-out of the advance. Sunday the Spanish column marched upon Perico Pozo, where General Ruis Rivera awaited them in a strongly entrenched position.

Rivera opened fire immediately on seeing the head of the column. Lieutenant Colonel Jose Roco advanced with the extreme vanguard, Major Sanchez Bernal leading another division under the protection of the artillery which shelled the trenches held by Rivera, who was already wounded in the thigh.

One company of the Reina cavalry galloped forward, capturing the trenches and seizing as prisoners five men who lay severely mutilated by the shells. Colonel Bacallao, on learning that Rivera had been wounded, hurried to the trenches and begged the soldiers not to kill him. Rivera and Colonel Bacallao were taken into the presence of General Velasco, who shook hands with Rivera and introduced him to the officers of his staff, giving instructions that the first thing to be done was to give him surgical relief.

Lieutenant Terry and Colonel Bacallao were also wounded in a fight at the same place on the 15th.

The Castilla battalion secured important documents as well as the arms and money of General Ruis Rivera. The money consisted mostly of American gold coin. A number of splendid watches were left with General Velasco. The villagers of San Cristobal, who went out to receive the small column of Spanish troops, enthusiastically cheered the victors.

General Ruis Rivera, who remains quietly in prison, eulogizes the escort of Spanish soldiers. He said the troops treated him with the greatest consideration. He also said the families of the insurgents now in the camp of the Cubans were in a critical situation. They are suffering greatly from hunger and are compelled to go out in search of vegetables whenever it is possible to avoid the Spanish troops. The insurgents are well supplied with meat, but have no spices.

General Rivera would say nothing concerning the war or Cuban political matters. When asked his name by General Velasco, Rivera replied, and made the following request: "Give me the honors of war, and stretch out to me your hand."

Rivera afterward conversed with some of the chief officers, and offered them tips for services rendered.

Velasco, noticing this, said soldiers need not money, but honor.

General Velasco continued military operations in the vicinity of Cabañazas, dispatching two companies to San Cristobal.

One of the shells exploded in the insurgent camp, wounding many members of Rivera's staff. Rivera himself received a Manser ball, which caused three serious wounds in the thigh. The moment the Spanish infantry entered the trenches Colonel Bacallao raised General Rivera on his shoulders as if to carry him off. After his capture General Rivera, speaking of the Spanish soldiery, said:

"They have treated me very carefully." He complained much of the pain in his wounds.

Captain General Weyler received the news of Rivera's capture at Cienfuegos, where the intelligence was loudly cheered. The captain general is described as satisfied with the result and has received cablegrams of congratulations from the Spanish minister of war and the Spanish premier, who congratulated him in the name of the queen of Spain.

Velasco will be honored with a title. Lieutenant Henry Terry died from his wound. He was a naturalized American.

CORRESPONDENT CROSBY

Reported Killed on a Battlefield at Arroyo Blanco.

HAVANA, March 30.—According to private information received here from Santa Clara, Mr. C. E. Crosby, correspondent of the Chicago Record, was present at an engagement which took place recently at Arroyo Blanco, in the Sancti Spiritus district of the province of Santa Clara, between a Spanish force under Colonel Arjona and a body of insurgents commanded by General Maximo Gomez. Mr. Crosby was in the camp of the insurgents, from which place he was watching the fight through field glasses, when he was killed by a stray bullet fired from the Spanish ranks.

Nothing seems to be known of Mr. Crosby's death in official circles.

The correspondent of The Associated Press says that Mr. C. E. Crosby, the correspondent of The Chicago Record, reached Havana on January 30. He took the field on February 10, going through Camajuany Villas. On the 9th of March he reached the camp of General Gomez and the same day was killed at Juan Criollo, near Arroyo Blanco.

An engagement was in progress and Mr. Crosby received a bullet in the forehead. Death was instantaneous. His clothing, watch and money are now in possession of General Gomez, who gave the body an honorable burial.

Private advices received here say that an important engagement has taken place at Macagua, province of Santa Clara, between the Spanish forces under General Ruiz and the insurgents under General Maximo Gomez. The insurgents left 30 men killed on the field.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER

To Be Sent by the President to Investigate Ruiz's Death.

NEW YORK, March 30.—A dispatch to The Herald from Washington says: President McKinley has definitely decided to send a special commissioner to Cuba. The president has in view a close personal friend and a man of considerable legal ability, in whose judgment Mr. McKinley has the greatest confidence. The object of the special commissioner's visit to Cuba will be to take part in the intended investigation of the alleged murder of Dr. Ruiz, an American citizen. Consul General Lee has absolutely refused to join in this investigation on the ground that he is convinced the Spanish government will not conduct a fair inquiry and that the decision of the commission will be a "whitewash" for all officials connected with Ruiz's death.

Maceo's Successor Captured.

MADRID, March 30.—The Marquis de Alameda has telegraphed to the government that Antonio Maceo's successor in the insurgent ranks in Cuba, Luis Rivera, was captured during a recent engagement after being twice wounded. The other "Cuban chiefs" were taken at the same time. This news is regarded to Madrid as of the highest importance. It is considered by many that Rivera's capture is the death blow of the rebellion in Pinar del Rio and will effectually check any attempt at an uprising in Puerto Rico.

HOUSE AND SENATE.

Liveliest Day So Far of the Tariff Debate Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Yesterday was by far the most exciting day the house has witnessed since the tariff debate began. The proceedings throughout were of a lively order and several times bordered on the sensational. The Democrats blocked proceedings in the first instance by demanding the presence of a quorum before allowing any legislative work.

An amendment was adopted placing a duty of $1 a ton on bauxite, not refined, the Republicans stating that Georgia and Alabama demanded protection for it.

There was a sensational scene in the afternoon when Mr. Johnson of Indiana protested against taking the time of the house in irrelevant discussion. He was ordered to take his seat and refused, but finally did so as the chairman of the committee of the whole, Mr. Sherman, was about to summon the speaker. A second time he rose and the speaker was actually called in to subdue Mr. Johnson.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Before turning to the arbitration treaty the senate yesterday gave an hour to routine business in open session. Resolutions were agreed to by Mr. Pettigrew of South Dakota asking the secretary of the interior for information relative to President Cleveland's sweeping order establishing forest reserves and by Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire calling on the civil service commission for the reason why certain classes of workmen were subjected to competitive examination contrary to the law exempting laborers from the classified service.

The first phase of the tariff in the senate made its appearance in a senate resolution by Mr. Allen of Nebraska, declaring that tariff taxes on articles of daily consumption should not be laid so as to enrich one class at the expense of the masses. It went over. Mr. Hoar from the judiciary committee reported favorably the bill to prevent kinetoscope exhibitions of prize fights in the District of Columbia and the territories and to prohibit the shipping of material for the exhibition. Mr. Morgan of Alabama submitted a minority report on the bill for a commission to settle the Central Pacific railroad indebtedness to the government. The bill was passed for the settlement of an account between Arkansas and the United States. It involves a payment by the state of a balance of $160,000. The rest of the day, up to 3:11 p. m., was spent in executive session.

Poor Outlook for Wheat.

HAGERSTOWN, Ind., March 30.—The prospect for wheat in this county is extremely poor. The alternate freezing and thawing has damaged the young sprouts. The process of freezing and thawing causes the roots of the wheat to draw from the earth, thus exposing them to the killing frost. In many fields no trace of wheat can be seen, and there is not an excellent field in the neighborhood. A large acreage will be broken up and planted in corn.

Fire at Princeton.

PRINCETON, Ind., March 30.—An early fire caused considerable loss, the following merchants suffering: J. H. Boren, dry goods, loss on stock and building, $7,000; insurance, $3,000. Floyd Mangum, building and groceries, loss, $2,000, with $1,500 insurance. John Shnel, meat market, loss $500, with $8,000 insurance. Al Boren's residence also burned, causing $1,250 loss, with $800 insurance. The cause of the fire is attributed to incendiarism.

AGAINST THE POWERS

Greek Commander in Crete Has Declared War.

CONSTANTIN NOW AT LARISSA.

The Whole Garrison Under Arms to Receive the Crown Prince—Turkish Force Thought to Be Greatly Underestimated. Two Hundred Greeks Sailed From New York Saturday to Enlist.

LONDON, March 30.—A long official dispatch from the British admiral in Cretean waters to the government concludes with saying:

"Colonel Vassos (the commander of the Greek army of occupation in Crete) has practically declared war against the powers."

A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Larissa says that the schoolboys there are being armed with rifles, bayonets and ammunition. It is no uncommon sight to see lads of 13 and 14 fully equipped.

The Daily Chronicle's Athens correspondent, Mr. Henry Homan, says that he has it from a reliable source that Emperor William has offered to the sultan the services of General Von Goltz, and of other German officers if the Turkish government desires to avail itself of them in the difficulty with Greece.

The Times correspondent at Rome says that the view entertained in Italian official circles as to the outcome of the Greco-Cretan affair is pessimistic in the extreme. Little, if any, hope is expressed that a conflict between the Greeks and Turks can be averted by the powers.

The Times publishes today a dispatch from its special correspondent at Larissa, the headquarters of the Greek army in Thessaly, which says that 10,000 Greeks have been stationed at the east end of the frontier with their base at Rapsani, on hillsides north of the Vale of Tempe. From this point they are watching the Turkish positions from Platamona to Ellassona. The Vale of Tempe itself is not fortified, as the Greek line is drawn from 10 to 20 miles further north.

Indeed, the Greek force has no fortified lines in Thessaly. The Greeks seem to consider themselves only in the light of an invading force, and not as a force occupying a territory likely to be invaded. As a result of this they could not stop a victorious army anywhere north of Thermopylae. They are relying far too little upon material defenses.

The Turks hold the coast road with a strong force from their base at Katerina. The Greek commissariat corps is slender, though the Greek officers have all along insisted that the Turks themselves are miserably supplied in this particular, and that there is much insubordination in the Turkish ranks. But it is very rare indeed to find anyone taking a reasonable view of the real strength of the Turks or of the character of the coming struggle.

Constantin's Arrival.

LARISSA, March 30.—Crown Prince Constantin, commander-in-chief of the Greek army in Thessaly, his wife, the Princess Sophia, Prince Nicholas of Greece and the Princess Marie of Greece arrived here today. The whole garrison was under arms to receive the crown prince and his party. The streets were thronged with people and gaily decorated with flags, the windows were filled with spectators and many ladies threw flowers in the path of the princesses.

The crown prince was welcomed by the superior military and civil authorities, and, later, Prince Constantin, amid the enthusiastic acclamation of the crowds present, reviewed the troops which were drawn up at the railroad station, while the princesses proceeded to the cathedral, where a Te Deum was sung. Thence they went to the palace in front of which two batteries of artillery and a squadron of cavalry were stationed.

Admirals Ask for Aid.

CANEA, March 30.—In order to insure the security of the occupied towns the admirals have telegraphed to their respective governments to send an additional 600 men each. They have decided to occupy Akrotiri.

American Greeks to Enlist.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Two hundred Greeks are prepared to sail from New York for home next Saturday to enlist in King George's army.

Organized for the Common Good.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., March 30.—Workingmen of Crawfordsville have formed a union which has for its object the furtherance of ends far different from those usually sought by unions. It proposes to act as a sort of employment bureau, to secure work for those desiring it, to dispense charity to the worthy unemployed and to school its members in good citizenship and an understanding of the laws of the land. A hall has been rented by the new order, and weekly meetings are held. At each meeting an address on some live question is delivered by some prominent citizen. The officers of the union state that it will be divorced entirely from politics, either local or general.

Convention of Catholic Knights.

ANDERSON, Ind., March 30.—The annual convention of the Catholic Knights of America will be held in this city, beginning April 10, the Monday following Easter Sunday. About 1,000 visitors are expected. Many will come to attend military high mass, which will be held on Sunday. The Knights have a splendid new armory, in which the sessions will be held.

FLOOD SITUATION.

Two Serious Breaks in Lower Levees. Enormous Damage Done.

MEMPHIS, March 30.—The flood situation in the vicinity of Greenville, Miss., is alarming. The reported break at Wayside, nine miles south of that city, is fully confirmed, and the latest reports are to the effect that the water is pouring through a crevasse, 500 yards in width, with tremendous force. But the most startling news reached Memphis at 6 o'clock last evening. A telegram from Perthshire, 48 miles north of Greenville and immediately at the head of the fertile Yazoo delta, states that a break has occurred in the main levee there. Just how serious this break is the telegram does not state, but special trains loaded with laborers and sacks of sand have been hurriedly dispatched to the scene.

If the break at Perthshire assumes anything like the proportions of the crevasse at Wayside, the destruction will be enormous. The waters will sweep over the rich farm lands of Bolivar, Washington, Sharkey, Issaquena, Warren, Yazoo and Sunflower counties in Mississippi, and the loss to stock and property will be appalling. Ten thousand men line the levees between Memphis and Vicksburg watching the working with a desperation almost pitiable. The warning sent out by the weather bureau from Washington is having its effect. Many of the inhabitants of the Delta have corralled their animals on high strips of land and moved their families out of danger's reach.

The situation at Memphis is about the same as on yesterday. The river continues to fall slowly, the gauge registering 36.2 feet. A dispatch from Gunnison, Miss., says that a break in the levee is momentarily expected at Sunnyside, but it is thought this catastrophe can be averted if 150 men and material could be had at once. Accordingly, 100 white men were dispatched on a special train from this city to the scene.

The negroes at Camp Congo were offered $1 per day and all expenses to lend a helping hand, but with one exception, the offer was refused. There is much indignation among the citizens at this action of the negro refugees.

Six Miles Wide at Quincy.

QUINCY, Ill., March 30.—The Mississippi river has fallen almost one inch in 24 hours and the levees are entirely safe unless more rain falls on the upper Mississippi and floods come suddenly. A large force has been working night and day on the levees for 96 hours until the danger point is believed to be past. The bottom lands on the Missouri side are flooded, and the river just above this city is six miles wide. A few families have been driven out but the actual damage is slight. Quincy itself is 50 feet above high water mark.

Crevasse at Lake Lee.

JACKSON, Miss., March 30.—The break in the Mississippi levee at Lake Lee involves five of the penitentiary farms and all of them may be affected to a greater or lesser degree. They are the Tulaney farm, three miles from Mayersville, on the bank of the river; Watson place, two miles from Gracey, on the river; Dabney place, owned by Mrs. G. McLaurin, near Rolling Fork, Sandy Bayou; Dr. Hall's place, a mile from Angulla, Sharkey county.

MURDER AT LAWRENCEBURG.

Joseph Enyske Slabbed to Death by Stephen Royce in a Quarrel.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., March 30.—Late Sunday night Joseph Enyske was stabbed to death on the Guilford pike, near the railway junction, by Stephen Royce, a huge butcher knife being thrust through his body from the back until the point protruded through his breastbone. There were no witnesses to the crime, but the arrest of Royce immediately followed, and he was hurried away to jail to avoid possible violence at the hands of Enyske's friends. Both men had been dissipating, and there was a quarrel between them early in the evening, although they separated without bloodshed.

It is presumed that they again met near Royce's home, and that he used a butcher knife secured from his own table. Enyske was a stationary engineer, and he leaves a wife and several children. Royce was employed in the Lawrenceburg saw works, and is also a man of family. The murderer claims that Enyske followed him to his home and dared him to come out, and that he used the knife in self-defense. The body of the victim was found lying in the roadway, however, 300 yards away from Royce's home.

THE QUART SHOP ELIMINATED.

The Good Effect Noticeable in Decreased Lawlessness.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., March 30.—The claim so long maintained by the city authorities to the effect that the major portion of the lawlessness and disorder in Crawfordsville resulted directly from the existence of the quart shops seems to be justified by the city's experience without them. The business of the mayor's court has dropped to almost nothing since the police shut up the quart shops, and there has been practically no disorder in those sections of the town which, during the regime of the quart shops, were in a constant uproar. The police force has already been cut down and there is likelihood of a still further reduction of it.

Unaccountable Suicide.

ALLIANCE, O., March 30.—Jeff. Hackathorn, aged 40 years, a well known resident of Green Hill, near here, blew out his brains with a revolver while sick in bed Sunday night. He was married about three weeks ago. No cause is known for the suicide.

HAAS' FATE SEALED.

First Murderer to Be Executed in Ohio.

PRISONER SEEMS INDIFFERENT.

Boston Bank Brings Suit Against the Third National of Dayton, Which Recalls the Lewis Forgery—Fell From a Mow—Running Night and Day—Strange Suicide, Other State News.

LANCASTER, O., March 30.—The state board of pardons met here yesterday to dispose of the application of William Haas for a commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment. The meeting was held at the office of Mr. Ewing, a member of the board, all the members being present except Mr. Braden, who is in Florida seeking health. Mr. Koons submitted a carefully prepared report which reviewed the circumstances of the case, and recommended that the application be denied in view of the fact that the degree of guilt had been fixed by Judges Evans and Wilson after a hearing of the testimony, their decision being expressly affirmed by the circuit court and inferentially by the supreme court and further in view of the failure of the applicant to furnish any facts which were not presented at the trial.

The case resolved itself into a matter of reviewing the decisions of able judges purely and in accord with the recommendation of Mr. Koons the board determined that it would not interfere.

Haas will be electrocuted on Friday morning of next week, directly after midnight, being the first in this state to suffer the extreme penalty of the law by means of electricity. He is perfectly indifferent to his fate, and is the lightest hearted of all the three condemned murderers in the annex.

CRAZY PEOPLE ARE FREED.

Seventeen Insane Patients Liberated at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, March 30.—Today Sheriff McConnell, by order of Probate Judge White, will set at large in the city of Cleveland 17 persons who are incurably insane. This action results from the complications consequent upon the opinion of Solicitor Kaiser that the county commissioners are responsible for the care of incurable insane. The state asylums are intended for persons who are under treatment in hope of recovery, and the Newbury asylum being over-crowded.

Superintendent Elyman notified Judge White that 31 incurables must be removed to make room for 31 persons for treatment. The city infirmary could care for only nine of the unfortunates, and they were ordered removed to that institution. Of the remainder five were removed by friends. That left 17 to be disposed of. Saturday morning Judge White was compelled to issue orders to the sheriff to remove these 17 persons to their homes. How they will then be cared for no one seems to know.

FORGER LEWIS.

It Is Alleged the Dayton Bank Is About to Pay Him Some Money.

DAYTON, O., March 30.—The belief is entertained in certain circles that Z. T. Lewis, the arch forger of the age, is much in evidence and helping to shape the financial history of one of Dayton's banks. The National Bank of Redemption of Boston has entered suit against the Third National Bank of this city and Sheriff Linn of Champaign county by attachment and garnishment, to obtain possession of certain money, which is alleged, is about to be paid to Lewis by the Third National. It is further alleged that some of the money is even now being paid to him. When Lewis disappeared he owed the Boston bank $10,583.

Judge Heisterman of Urbana has ordered an investigation. He has appointed Charles T. Jamison of that city as a special commissioner to make an examination of the accounts of the Third National bank, and to take such testimony as is necessary.

Fell From a Mow.

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 30.—Theodore Little was found in an alley in the rear of the postoffice in an unconscious state suffering from a frightful wound in the back of his head. He was removed to police headquarters and Dr. Murray made an examination, which disclosed a bad fracture of the skull, and pronounced the injuries fatal. Little went into a haymow in front of which he was found to get feed for some horses and in some way fell out of a door, alighting on his head, striking a stone which almost entirely scalped him. He never regained consciousness and died yesterday.

Running Night and Day.

AKRON, O., March 30.—The Goodrich, India and Diamond rubber companies here have never before been so rushed in making bicycle tires. In this work the shops are running night and day, but can not keep up with orders. Over 2,400 people are employed and 600,000 pairs of tires will be made here this season.

Judge Ricks' Condition.

MASSILLON, O., March 30.—Sensational articles in the Sunday papers, in which Judge A. J. Ricks' case is spoken of as hopeless and his retirement from the United States court necessary are repudiated by the family here. The judge is in California and advices from there indicate that he is progressing favorably toward recovery. His resignation is not contemplated.

Over 8,000 applications for postoffices have been filed at the Postoffice Department since the change of Administration. And just think, these will all have to wait till Democratic incumbents serve out their term.

The Republican State Central Committee has adopted resolutions calling on all Republican members of the Legislature to support Dr. Hunter for United States Senator and declaring that "disloyalty at this critical moment deserves the severest condemnation." But the bolters go right on voting against Hunter.

THE WHEAT CROP

Of the World For 1896 the Smallest For Six Years.

CHICAGO, March 29.—The Times Herald Washington special says: "The world's wheat crop for 1896 is 2,428,393,000 bushels. This fact will be officially announced by the Secretary of Agriculture in a report to be issued this week. This important report will also cover the quality and distribution of the corn, wheat and oats grown in the United States during the past year.

"Although the total wheat crop is 118,000,000 bushels less than in 1895, it is larger than earlier estimates indicated. This is largely due to an increase of 59,000,000 bushels in European Russia as shown in the final estimates of the Central Statistical Bureau over the November estimate of the Minister of Agriculture of that country."

The crop for 1896 was the smallest for six years. The figures given by the Agricultural Department in these tables are official wherever available. Regarding the distribution of the wheat crop of the United States for 1896, the report will state:

"The increase in price, which began in the fall of 1896 so stimulated sales that many parts of the country are now left with only sufficient for seed. All sections report an exceptionally small percentage on hand, the general average being 20.6, against 26.3 last year, and showing but 88,000,000 bushels in farmers' hands March 1. Unusually little of the crop of 1895 remains—but 3 per cent. against 4.7 of the 1894 crop so held a year ago.

A larger proportion than usual must be retained for home consumption. The average percentage so retained is 48.3, against 41.5 last year, when the inducements to export were weaker.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Callouette, druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at J. James Wood's drug store.

"PIE, PIE, PIE."

The Promise of Patronage the
Only Argument Used by the Hunterites.The Hottest "Roast" of 'Em All For the Straight Republicans and "Sound Money" Democrats.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 28.—The following interview was given out to-night by a prominent Republican who is opposing the election of Dr. Hunter to the Senate. It is understood to reflect the views entertained by the anti-Hunter Republicans all over the State, and while it may be couched in rather strong terms, the man who gave it out said that strong words are needed for the occasion. He said:

"The six gentlemen who are refusing to bow down and worship Mark Hanna's golden calf are all men of high character and unsullied integrity. The Hunterites denounce them as bolters and traitors behind their backs, but no one has been found sufficiently bold to do this to their face. The 'sound money' Democrats who attended the Chicago convention and refused to vote for Bryan because he was in favor of free silver, were canonized as saints by Republican orators throughout the country. They were lauded to the skies, because they were unwilling to sacrifice a principle. The six gentlemen referred to stand in the same position. They refuse to vote for Hunter because he has pledged himself in writing to vote for free silver. They, too, are standing for a principle, not only so, they know that of all the shameful methods that they have ever been employed in this State, have been employed by Hunter. No argument has ever been made except the offer of patronage. Offices have been promised with reckless prodigality, sometimes the same office promised to as many as three different persons.

The scramble of the pie hunters has disgusted every man who loves his country or has any respect for common decency. No man has pointed to a single qualification of Hunter, except as a distributor of pie. No argument is made on account of his ability as a statesman, orator or business man. Pie, pie, pie is heard on every side and in the greed for office all else has been thrust aside. Republicans who admired the patriotism of Democrats last fall seem never to think of patriotism now. The six noble men who have stood like a stone wall between the election of Hunter and the principles of their party are entitled to the highest commendation. Whatever may be the result they will go down in history as patriots, who had principles and who would not yield to the siren voice of the professional pie monger. Strange to say, the only Democrats who favor Hunter are found in the "sound money" camp. It was all wrong to elect a free silver Democrat, but it is all right to elect a free silver Republican. They say they can not risk the election of a Governor, fearing the free silver people may win. The Governor amounts to but little so far as the great issues involved are concerned. The present Governor and his predecessor have found themselves hamstrung by the Slaking Fund Commissioners. A Democratic Governor would be powerless except to offer rewards, pass on accounts, &c. It is vastly more important to have a reliable "sound money" man in the Senate than in the Governor's chair. But it is said a race can not now be had with safety. Whether the Governor resigns or not there will be a race this fall, a race for all the county offices, the Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, members of the Senate and lower House and Clerk of the Court of Appeals. The latter is a State office and a vote in that contest will indicate the gain or loss of party strength in Kentucky. There is no way to avoid the issue. Come it will, come it must.

The present Governor of Kentucky, and he alone, could have carried the Republican party to victory in 1895. It is claimed that he should go to work for Hunter, and is guilty of treason because he declines to do it. Should he adopt such a course he would be compelled in advance to sacrifice all self-respect. From the time he came into office the Hunter machine has been used against him. In the first place, the sixty offices under control of the Slaking Fund Commission were nearly all given away to elect Hunter at the last session, and when the time came to elect these officers the Governor found himself hampered in every way.

He has faithfully tried to give the State an honest administration. Warden Hapay was retained in office notwithstanding his unfitness for the place. He has been slandered in every conceivable way. Spies have been set on his office, the presence of every man noted, and his intention and purpose speculated upon. Dr. Hunter's crowd have kept the mails, telegraph and news papers hot with the statements that Hunter was to control the patronage and Bradley to be treated with contempt. Last fall, notwithstanding the Governor went into Hunter's district and spoke and begged the Republicans to support him, he received no word of thanks from Hunter, but instead it was said he knew Hunter was going to be elected and wanted to claim the credit of victory. How could he now go out and make another fight to elect Hunter? His course has been disguised and manly. He is not a hypocrite, but a bold, frank, outspoken man who hates double dealing. He believes that the election of Dr. Hunter will destroy the Republican party in Kentucky. He does not regard him as reliable on the money question. He is remaining in his office quietly watching the fight the few spare moments he has from office labor.

The six men who oppose Hunter are charged to be controlled by the Governor. There is not one word of truth in the statement. They cannot be controlled by any man. They are independent, courageous men, who think for themselves. Hunter and his tools have written out for indignation meetings to be held. Little knots of men have gathered here and there like the three tailors of London, "resolved and resolved, then died the same." Their meetings represent nothing and nobody. They are in nearly every instance composed of men who sought and failed to obtain positions from Governor Bradley, and who are rushing madly to the front in pursuit of pie. The great mass of the thoughtful, patriotic Republicans are opposed to Hunter and his methods. Verily this is the day of the pie hunter and his voice is heard in the land.

A Hunter organ, the Louisville Commercial, intimates strongly that the "prominent Republican" who gave out the above is none other than Governor Bradley.

A Maysville Man Roughly Handled.

MANCHESTER, O., March 29.—E. H. Rudy, of Maysville, Ky., came here Saturday as the agent of the Crane Lumber Company of Catlettsburg, Ky., looking after logs belonging to the firm that had been caught by Kentucky drifters.

Last night he became engaged in a dispute with the parties and a general fight followed. Rudy was badly injured and says he was then robbed of $200.

Sometimes the most careful women are the most careless. Many a woman hinders herself up, to keep out sickness—when she is neglecting the very worst sickness that can come to a woman. She allows a slight disorder to become worse, to slowly sap her vitality. The little pain and the other slight indications of seem to her unimportant. She goes on, with increasing suffering, until life itself becomes a drag. Nervousness, "sinking spells," digestive disturbances, and fifty other complications may arise from the derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints" was recognized by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then and now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y. He prepared Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the most wonderfully effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies.

ACCIDENT INS. tickets. W. R. WARDER.

The Secret

Of the success of our Dress Goods Department is found in the fact, it meets the wants of all classes. From the conservative woman of quiet taste to the leader of ultra fashion—from the person who carefully counts the cost to the one to whom price is no object. Don't judge the store news by the little we tell; we haven't room for more than hints.

Two Points of View.

On one occasion, at a party given by Sir John Mills, Lady Halle rose to play the violin, when to her intense amusement she heard Landseer exclaim: "Good gracious! A woman playing the fiddle!" On the other hand, an old fashioned nobleman, when he saw a gentleman sit down to the piano, contemptuously remarked, "I wonder if the creature can sew."

RIGGS' STORY.

Claims He Killed the Boyds in Self Defense.
Little Doubt, However, That He Waylaid Them.

Constable Dawson returned from Felicity, O., yesterday afternoon, but did not bring with him Amos Riggs, murderer of the Boyds. Riggs had changed his mind since Saturday and refused to return to Kentucky without a requisition. He was sent to jail at Batavia yesterday afternoon to await the action of the Kentucky authorities.

An incident transpired just before Constable Dawson left Felicity, showing the character of Riggs. The officer asked Riggs if he had any message to send back to his family. "No," the prisoner replied fiercely, "and if I did I wouldn't send it by a little 'poseum-eyed — — — like you."

In arresting Riggs, Constable Utter, of Chilo, was assisted by special officers Labes, Frnders and Chapman. They came upon him when he wasn't looking for them and forced him to surrender at the point of the pistol.

Riggs admits the double killing, in justification of which he made the following statement to Officer Labes:

"Mandeville Boyd stole my eighteen-year-old daughter and took her to Maysville and induced one of my young sons to accompany them. They went to the courthouse in that city, where all three swore that the girl was twenty-one years of age, after which she and young Boyd were married. They then returned to his father's home. That was about three weeks ago, and a few days after the Boyds, both father and son, circulated a report throughout the neighborhood that I had been intimate with Mandeville's wife and her twenty-year-old sister. They also threatened to pick my heart out. They went to Maysville and bought two revolvers with which to kill me. These facts were all communicated to me by twelve of my neighbors, all of whom advised me to arm myself. I had no weapons, but, finally, acting upon their advice, purchased a double-barrelled shotgun and loaded it with buckshot. I then awaited developments.

"In the meantime I notified my landlord of the impending trouble, and the latter told me to notify the Boyds, who were in the habit of crossing the farm upon which I lived, to cease the practice. This I did, but they defied me. On the fatal morning I saw them approaching, and when near my house they climbed a fence and started to cross the premises. I got my gun and confronted them, and, after some quarreling, they separated and approached me from different directions. Mandeville made a motion to draw his pistol. I then took aim and fired one charge into his heart. I then wheeled and fired the other one at the elder Boyd, which also took effect in his heart. Both fell dead.

"I went back to the house, left the gun, changed my clothes and made my way to the house of my brother, near Felicity, where I was arrested."

A representative of the BULLETIN visited the Boyds home Monday. The family has moved since the killing and the widow and children, with her widowed daughter-in-law, are now living on a farm south of Mt. Carmel.

Riggs' daughter reiterated the charge that her father had attempted to ruin her, and said she escaped by locking herself in her room. Her mother and older sister were not at home at the time. She says after she locked the door her inhuman father went out and was attempting to enter the room through a window when her mother fortunately returned. She says her father had afterwards threatened to kill her, and she believes he would have done so. She said her family sent for her since the killing, and wanted her to come and live with them, but she said she thought they would want her to get her father out of the trouble, and she had refused to return to them.

The killing was done near a sink hole, as heretofore stated. A narrow footpath led by this, and it was learned that the character of the wounds indicated that the shots had been fired from this hole, hearing out the belief that Riggs concealed himself in the hole and killed his victims as they approached.

Constable Dawson went to Frankfort this morning to get a requisition for Riggs.

Robbed a Church.

Thieves effected an entrance to the Church of the Nativity last night, and stole the silver communion service and between $20 and $30.

Entrance was effected through a rear window. There is no clue to the thieves.

THREE KILLED

And a Fourth Wounded by the Explosion of a Saw Mill
Boiler.

Terrible Fatality Near Germantown Monday.
How One Man Was Saved and One Lost.

The neighborhood beyond Germantown was the scene of a terrible fatality Monday forenoon.

The boiler of a saw mill exploded, killing three persons and wounding another.

The mill was on the land of Albert Norris, between Germantown and Brooksville.

The mill was a complete wreck; large pieces of the boiler were blown nearly 200 yards.

The engineer, whose home was near Millersburg, was a large man named Williamson. His body was blown about seventy-five yards, and although badly mangled and scalded he lived nearly an hour.

A young man named Samuel Tucker was in the mill, a looker on, and was instantly killed.

A young man, "Pap" Boone, was plowing near by and called to a Michael Lundirgan to come and hold his horses while he went into the shed for a drink.

Boone was instantly killed, the top of his head being torn off, while Lundirgan holding the horses escaped unhurt.

The sawyer was sharpening the saw at the time, and although the frame was blown down and all the works to pieces, he escaped with a few bruises.

The mill was the property of parties living near Carlisle. It had not been considered safe, it is said.

JUDGE PUGH'S PLAN.

The Cynthiana Democrat Doesn't Believe it Will Work Very Well.

[Cynthiana Democrat.]

In an article on the first page of today's Democrat it will be observed that Congressman Pugh has evolved a wonderfully beautiful or beautifully wonderful plan for the distribution of patronage in this district, whereby he doubtless hopes to escape the kicking and the buck-jumping of sorebacked office-seekers. Congressman Pugh can not hope to hide behind county committees. We warn him that every device of science is well known to the hungry horde of pie-plotters. Does anybody for a moment imagine that the x-rays will not pierce the corporal rotundity of District Chairman Jas. S. Huff and disclose Congressman Pugh squatting behind? And will not the disappointed pie plotter go through Huff like a streak of greased lightning and land plumb, bang on Congressman Pugh? What is Huff to the pie plotter? Has he any responsibility? Does he draw $5,000 a year for introducing pension bills and distributing garden seeds? Ah, woe, woe to Pugh? Sad the day he delegated the appointing power to the wire-pullers. What they will do to the Congressman's political aspirations will be a delightful sufficiency.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired-out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centers in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. DIDN'T EXPECT DEATH.

Jackson and Walling Thought Hanging Preparations All a Bluff.

CINCINNATI, March 30.—Death Watch Murray, who was with Jackson and Walling during their last hours on earth, and who accompanied them to the scaffold, made a startling statement Monday morning. Mr. Murray says that it is an absolute fact that neither Jackson nor Walling thought they were to be hung, maintaining that belief even after the black cap had been drawn over their heads. He says that they took the entire affair to be a bluff, to secure from them a confession, feeling that they were not disposed to give one in any other manner. But a few hours before their execution Walling told Murray that they could not fool him with preparations for hanging, for he knew it to be only a method to extract from them a confession of the crime. Mr. Murray says that accounts for the brave manner in which the two men met death, and for the boldness with which they greeted friends during the morning of the execution.

Mr. Murray gives as further evidence of the fact that they did not believe they were to hang, the fact that but three days before the fatal day Walling engaged Murray in conversation concerning his future life and plans. He desired Murray to enter partnership with him, saying with all sincerity that "when he got out of jail he would make some money for both of them." Murray is of the firm belief that Jackson and Walling are guilty of the murder of Pearl Bryan, but intimates that a lot of public officials over the river know more of the affair than appears on the surface.

Fatally Hurt in a Runaway.

ELKTON, Ky., March 30.—A very painful, if not a fatal accident occurred at 5 o'clock Sunday evening near this city, which may cause the death of one of our leading citizens. Mr. J. H. Armstrong, ex-sheriff of Todd county, and a prominent capitalist, was leaving the city for his home three miles north of town. Upon reaching the bridge one mile from town the horses attached to the buggy became frightened, disconnected themselves from the vehicle, and threw Mr. Armstrong out. In the fall he sustained a number of injuries, and it is feared they may prove fatal, as the attending physicians are apprehensive.

Soldier as a Counterfeiter.

PERRY, O. T., March 30.—R. K. Gordon, aged 25 years, belonging to Company B, Tenth Light U. S. Infantry, stationed at Ft. Reno, has been arrested at Krenlin, west of here, on a charge of counterfeiting. Gordon is a member of a well known family of Utica, N. Y.

Pearls A-plenty.

A serious effect of the plague in India has been a sudden increase in the number of pearls reaching the London market and a consequent marked fall in prices. This is not due to unusual industry on the part of the divers, but to the fact that the native dealers at Bombay have been in such haste to quit the stricken city that they have eagerly disposed of their wares at far below the customary market value. One English firm of importers of Indian pearls has accumulated a stock which, if placed suddenly on the market, it is estimated, would send down quotations fully 25 per cent.

Knew His Place.

"Move forward, please," said the conductor in the crowded cable car. "Not on your life," replied the gentleman addressed, taking a fresh grip on the strap. "But there are gentlemen on the platform who wish to get in," continued the collector of fares. "Well, they can't have my place. This lady is my wife, and I know this road from start to finish. If anybody is going to sit in her lap this trip, I'm that person. I'm on this road's curves."—Yonkers Statesman.

Nothing of the Kind.

CARSON, Nev., March 30.—It has been reported that the refinery connected with the Carson mint would be closed by orders from Washington. Melter and Refiner Harris denies it.

Defects of Women's Beauty.

"Defects of Women's Beauty" is the title of a book by Baron Rudolf von Lariach, in which the author agrees with Schopenhauer in his denunciation of those who find comeliness in the "undergrown, small shouldered, big hip and short legged sex." How much more grateful to the clear eye of art should be the noble proportions of the properly developed man, argues the baron. By numerous measurements he proves to his own satisfaction that, geometrically, the female form is a failure and that the male form is a success. Women themselves have shown since the days of Eve in the garden, the baron says, that they appreciate their inferiority in this respect. They have concealed their limbs in flowing garments, reaching sometimes to the knee, sometimes to the ankles, sometimes to the feet, but always far enough to hide from man the defects in their proportions. They now not only conceal their proportions to a large extent, he says, but they always seek to alter them, moving their waist up or down with stays, squeezing in their natural figures here and building them out there, and not scolding hoopskirts, bustles and crinolines in order to make themselves look as little as possible as nature made them.

The ballet girl would seem to confound part of the baron's argument, but he does not yield to this apparent defiance of his logic. He contends that woman dares to expose her defects in tights "only when she summons to her aid the most effective means of benumbing the intellect of man." The baron seems to feel, however, that he is in a losing fight, for he adds: "But most of the men of our times have ceased to perceive the defects of female beauty. Woman has deceived and misled her admirers so many generations with her smooth, long gowns that only a few, educated by research and by constant practice in measuring the proportions of the female form, fully clothed, have gained that clear, unbiased view which enables them to appreciate how skillfully woman has carried out the delusion as to her figure."—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Eskimo's Kayak.

Some queer craft are described by Gustav Kobbe in St. Nicholas, and he says of the native Greenlanders' boat:

While the tropical and semitropical sailor clings to his lateen rig, the extreme northern race, the Eskimo, clings perforce to his kayak and paddle. The kayak suggests our racing shell, but without the sliding seat, and so covered over that only a hole remains to admit the body. Even if the Eskimo of the extreme north wished to adopt a sail, he could not do so for lack of wood for the mast. The light frame of his kayak is made of bone skillfully thonged with seal leather, and the skin of the seal is generally used for the covering. I have seen the Eskimos of Labrador in their kayaks, and it is wonderful with what a quick, nervous quiver these light craft respond to the slightest touch of the paddle. Within easy reach are the harpoons, guns and bladder floats of these daring sea hunters, who, in their frail looking kayaks, with icebergs towering almost in their course, and the white glare of the ice "loom" in the offing, brave dangers compared with which those encountered by the navigators of the flying proas, dahabeahs and muletas are trifling. The Eskimos furnish the extreme instance of that dogged courage of the northern races which, united with intellectual energy, has enabled those more favored in their surroundings than these dwellers on arctic shores to develop into the great people of the earth.

Ruger, commanding the department of the east of the United States army, with headquarters on Governor's island, retires from the active list of the army on Friday next, when he reaches the age limit of 64 years. General Ruger was made a major general Feb. 8, 1895, and succeeded in his present command Major General Miles when General Miles became commanding officer of the army.

His meritorious services won one promotion after another, until in 1866, when he was mustered out of the volunteers, it was with the rank of major-general. He was then reappointed in the United States army, with the rank of colonel, Thirty-third infantry, July 28, 1866. In the following March he was brevetted brigadier general, United States army.

He was provisional governor of the state of Georgia from Jan. 13 to July 4, 1868, subsequently being appointed to the command of the department of the south.
